

WANT JEWELLERY

RENOWNED FOR THEIR CREATIVITY, CRAFTSMANSHIP AND KNOWLEDGE, IT'S NO SURPRISE THAT WANT JEWELLERY'S CUSTOMERS BECOME CLIENTS FOR LIFE.

Andrew Want and Libby Geihe have been creating amazing jewellery since 1995 and were recently named winners of the International Ojda Association Prestige Professional Award, 2009/2010. Two good reasons why clients can feel comfortable when they visit Want Jewellery's friendly Southport studio, where anything from emotions to price can be discussed with honesty.

Want Jewellery are renowned for their creativity, craftsmanship and knowledge. Andrew designs using either a hand-drawn sketch or Computer Aided Design technology to take each piece from concept to creation. This ensures clear and concise communication between client and craftsman of how the finished piece will look. "Client satisfaction is our top priority and seeing a client truly happy is the best part of our job," says Andrew.

Libby is a registered valuer with the National Council of Jewellery Valuers and can provide an accurate assessment of your treasured jewellery's value. She also sources quality diamonds and gemstones at the best possible price and goes to great length to educate customers about their purchases.

Andrew and Libby believe that a piece of jewellery should be worn daily and suit either a pair of jeans or a little black dress. With a solid reputation, superior craftsmanship and great expertise, it's no surprise that Want Jewellery's customers become clients for life.
